John O'Brien

Professional Biography

John started his consultancy in 1990 and is now one of the most experienced executive coaches in the U.K. He has worked in many industrial sectors in the U.K., Europe and the Far East.

John mainly works in one-to-one coaching or mentoring relationships with senior level executives in organisations and has also been successful in helping to develop executives at other levels who are seen as having high level potential. John's own business background includes board membership of four companies and international HR experience. His particular strengths focus on the development of leadership, personal and interpersonal excellence. John's first-hand experience of business and in-depth understanding of human behaviour and relationships adds to his ability to enhance the personal effectiveness of leaders in trans-national and complex organisational contexts.
