Philippe Rosinski

Professional Biography

Philippe Rosinski is an expert in executive coaching, team coaching, and global leadership development, sought after by leading international corporations.

He is the author of Coaching Across Cultures (Nicholas Brealey Publishing/Intercultural Press, 2003 – www.CoachingAcrossCultures.com) and his pioneering work in bringing the crucial intercultural dimension into the practice of coaching has won him worldwide acclaim. Philippe Rosinski is the first European to have been designated Master Certified Coach by the International Coach Federation.

He is principal of Rosinski & Company, a global consulting firm that helps leaders, teams and organizations unleash their human potential to achieve high performance together with high fulfillment. Previously, he was the Director of Custom Programs at the Center for Creative Leadership Europe.

His goal is to help people honor their true desires, live happier and more productive lives. His approach fosters genuine commitment, essential for sustainable peak performance. It enables people to build thriving teams and organizations, and to bring a constructive contribution to society.

Prior to his book Coaching Across Cultures, his articles Leading for Joy and Constructive Politics had already shown how alternative and multiple perspectives complement traditional coaching and leadership development approaches for maximum impact. In 2006, Philippe Rosinski has contributed chapters to The Evidence Based Coaching Handbook (John Wiley & Sons) and Excellence in Coaching (Kogan Page).

Prior to his career in coaching and leadership development, he spent six years in the engineering field as a software engineer in the Silicon Valley, California, and as a project manager in Brussels.

Philippe Rosinski received an Electrical and Mechanical Engineering degree from the Ecole Polytechnique in Brussels. He holds a Master of Science degree in Electrical Engineering from Stanford University and the Cepac post-graduate business degree from the Solvay Business School in Brussels. He is also certified to use a variety of psychometric instruments.

Philippe Rosinski lives near Brussels with his wife Anne and their daughter Arielle.
