

Leadership Facilitation

“Julie Johnson is one of the most accomplished professionals I know working in the Personal Leadership Development area. She is particularly adept at bringing out the best in extremely diverse groups. One of many examples is her work with the Myers-Briggs personality profiles. Students across all our MBA programmes repeatedly refer back the value she added by increasing self-awareness and enhancing team effectiveness. She is a pleasure to work with!”

“I often start the executive training programs I lead by focusing on the soft skills. Julie Johnson has worked with me on several programs. She is an excellent facilitator, using a number of activities that significantly speed up the process of participants getting to know each other. This is quite beneficial for the rest of the program. We often have about as many cultures as participants in the room. She is experienced and knowledgeable with such culturally diverse groups – a necessity with international clients.”

“It has been my great pleasure to have been able to work with Julie Johnson for several years in both facilitation and coaching executives. Julie is exceptional in that she models the concepts and skills that she teaches. Working with Julie was both delightful and insightful for those in our programs, and for me personally as well. She is a true professional with the highest standards of quality and integrity. In addition, she can dance with an entire group of executives, all at the same time!”

“I’ve worked with Julie over the years on projects ranging from coaching to career planning with large, culturally diverse groups on both full-time and executive MBA programmes, in structured as well as process driven environments. Julie is great at understanding the needs of the audience and at understanding the delivery needs of programmes. She adjusts well and delivers professionally.”
